

So you want to play 2V2?
Here's how it works:

So you see those Wizard Slots? Those are slots for Your resources

Your resources are things like Blood and Energy
The Squirrel Slot is where your Side deck is placed

The slot next to it is the Slot where your main deck goes.
And the Horizontal Slot is where your cards that have perished goes.

The 4 Slots above are where you place your cards they attack the slots directly across the field.

The big skull is where your team resources are stored The resources are things like Bones and Mox

Sigil Changes: Conduits are limited to include 3 Slots I.E a full conduit covers 1 player field

Sigils that strike any opposing lane things like sniper only attack your opposing slots

Turn Order:

Whole team draws 1 card after full turns for both teams

Whole team debates what cards to play they can see cards in each others hands via TTS Teams

Whole team Attacks all in one go

Whole team ends there turn
